Fargo, ND—United Way of Cass-Clay has announced the participants of the 2015 35 Under 35 Women's Leadership Program. Page two contains a complete list of the 2015 participants and their employers. The participants represent a range of diverse backgrounds and industries.

The purpose of the United Way 35 Under 35 Women's Leadership Program is to mobilize the caring power of women, energize and inspire emerging leaders to make a difference, and deepen leadership opportunities for local young women. The program is designed to provide opportunities to build networks and strengthen connections to improve the quality of life in the Cass-Clay community.

The thirty five young women chosen to participate in 2015 will meet once each month and participate in six sessions focusing on various issues pertinent to young female leaders. Each session is led and presented by local leaders and includes topics relating to communication, public speaking, defining leadership, community leadership and philanthropy. The program is sponsored and coordinated by United Way of Cass-Clay.

Applications for the 2016 United Way 35 Under 35 Women's Leadership Program will be available in the fall of 2015.
