Fargo, ND—United Way of Cass-Clay has announced the participants of the 2018 35 Under 35 Women's Leadership Program. Page two contains a complete list of the 2018 participants and their employers. The participants represent a range of diverse backgrounds and industries and were selected to participate in this competitive leadership development program.

The purpose of the United Way 35 Under 35 Women's Leadership Program is to mobilize the caring power of women, energize and inspire leaders to make a difference, and to deepen leadership opportunities for local young women. The thirty five young women invited to participate in 2018 will meet each month and take part in six sessions focusing on various issues pertinent to young female leaders. Each session is led and presented by local leaders and includes topics relating to goal setting, communication, public speaking, personal growth, community leadership and philanthropy. The program is sponsored and coordinated by United Way of Cass-Clay.
